PROBABLE CAUSE STATEMENT

On May 15, 2008, Border Patrol Agent J. Clare was performing line watch duties in the Chula Vista area of responsibility. At approximately 8:00 a.m., he responded to a seismic intrusion device in an area known as "Copper Canyon." This area is located approximately seven miles east of the Otay Mesa, California Port of Entry and approximately one and a half miles north of the United States/Mexico International Boundary.

When Agent Clare arrived at the area he was informed by Senior Border Patrol Agent A. Noyes, via bureau radio, that he had located individuals attempting to conceal themselves in some brush in Copper Canyon. Agent Clare approached the brush from a southern trail, as Border Patrol Agent O. Gomez approached the brush from the north. After a brief search they located seven individuals and approached them and identified themselves as United States Border Patrol Agents. Agents Clare and Gomez then questioned the individuals as to their nationality and country of citizenship. All seven including one later identified as the defendant Gabriel ROMERO-Orta, admitted to being citizens and national of Mexico without any immigration documents to be in or remain in the United States legally. At approximately 9:00 a.m., all seven individuals were placed under arrest and transported to the Chula Vista Border Patrol Station for processing.

Routine record checks of the defendant revealed a criminal and immigration history. The defendant's record was determined by a comparison of his criminal record and the defendant's current fingerprint card. Official immigration records of the Department of Homeland Security revealed the defendant was previously deported to Mexico on April 28, 2008 through San Ysidro, California. These same records show that the defendant has not applied for permission from the Attorney General of the United States or his designated successor, the Secretary of the Department of Homeland Security, to return to the United States after being removed.
